Carried Down Stream.
When a man crosses some difficult place in his career, spurring all his energies to accomplish some critical passage in his business journey, suddenly finds his health giving way and feeling him sink under the weight of the saddle by the swift-running current of disease—then is the time when the marvelous rejuvenating properties of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will prove an unfailing means of rescue and restoration.

It is a very simple though eminently scientific medicine. It is not a mere stimulant like so many malt extracts. It restores healthy power by reviving the innermost sources of vitality in the nutritive system. It enables the digestive and blood-making organism to manufacture good blood abundantly and rapidly, so that the immense waste of tissue and nerve fiber entailed by hard labor is offset by speedily upbuilding of fresh energy and strength.

A prominent and venerable Illinois physician, Dr. W. W. Wines, M. D., of Fowler, Adams Co., writing to Dr. Pierce, says: "I send herewith fifty-one (51) cents in stamps for 'The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser' in cloth binding. With this I enclose for you a valuable work (truly a gift to the public), I must express my high appreciation of the vast amount of good that you have rendered the public. A correct measure of your usefulness never has been, and never will be estimated by the public; no, not even by the multitude of afflicted humanity that has been relieved and cured by your medicines. Wherever I go or have been in the United States, I find persons who have used, and are using Dr. Pierce's medicines with satisfaction, for all conditions for which they are recommended. Never has one spoken disparagingly of their action, and from having seen so often their good effects, I am also enabled with confidence in their action in cases and conditions for which they are recommended. It is not common for regular physicians to endorse and recommend proprietary medicine, but in this case I have no equivocation or hesitancy in so doing."

The quick constipation-cure—Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Never gripe.

SUMMONS.
IN THE SECOND JUDICIAL DISTRICT Court of the State of Nevada, in and for Washoe County.
The State of Nevada sends to C. H. Gardner, David T. Jones and W. T. Burnham, Greeters:

Foster as plaintiff in the Second Judicial District Court of the State of Nevada, in and for the County of Washoe, and answer the complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this summons. If you fail to do so, judgment will be rendered against you by default, and you will be liable for the costs of the action, and for the costs of the service of this summons. If you fail to do so, judgment will be rendered against you by default, and you will be liable for the costs of the action, and for the costs of the service of this summons. If you fail to do so, judgment will be rendered against you by default, and you will be liable for the costs of the action, and for the costs of the service of this summons.

ASSESSMENT NOTICE.
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT AT a meeting of the stockholders of the Spanish Springs Valley Ditch Company at the office of the Secretary in Reno, Nevada, February 25, 1899, an assessment of two and a half dollars ($2.50) per share was levied upon each and every share of the capital stock of the company, payable immediately to the Secretary. R. S. OSBURN, Secretary, Reno, March 1, 1899.

VOCAL CULTURE.
The First Step Is Keeping the Mouth Shut, Asleep or Awake.

"Proper breathing is so essential in voice production that it must receive first attention, and the first requirement is to keep the mouth shut," writes Katharine E. Junkermann in The Woman's Home Companion.
"Of course no tone can be either strong or pure if the lungs are cramped so that the air cannot find room. In order to increase the size of the lung capacity raise the chest and keep the body well and strongly poised."

"So much harm has been done to voices by allowing the mouth to become the regular air passage that the need of care cannot be too frequently emphasized. Besides the injury done by the unwarmed air entering the lungs the mucous membrane is hardened by the saliva being dried up, and the muscles of the tongue and throat grow stiff and less responsive. It is comparatively easy to control one's breathing when awake, but when asleep the harm goes on. To remedy this involves a slight discomfort, but one can endure it patiently looking to the end. Cut court plaster into little strips about one-fourth of an inch in width and paste several across the lips, placing them up and down, with the lips held naturally. If one is tempted to give up rather than endure the discomfort this method involves, a walk through an ordinary day coach or a night made hideous by the presence of a snorer in a near berth will cause a solemn vow to be taken never to do likewise."

The Magic of Rome.
The story of Rome is a tale of murder and sudden death, varied, changing, never repeated in the same way; there is blood on every threshold; a tragedy lies buried in every church and chapel, and again we ask in vain wherein lies the magic of the city that has fed on terror and grown old in carnage, the charm that draws men to her, the power that holds the magic that enthralled men soul and body, as Lady Venus cast her spells upon Tannhauser in her mountain of old. Yet none deny it, and as centuries roll on the poets, the men of letters, the musicians, the artists of all ages, have come to her from far countries and have dwelt here while they might, some for long years, and for the few months they could spare, and all of them have left something, a verse, a line, a sketch, a song that breathes the threefold mystery of love, eternity and death—"Studies From the Chronicles of Rome," by Marion Crawford.

The Spider's Elastic Appetite.
The spider has a tremendous appetite, and his gormandizing defies all human competition. A scientist who carefully noted a spider's consumption of food in 24 hours concluded that if the spider were built proportionately to the human scales he would eat at daybreak (approximately) a small alligator, by 7 a. m. a lamb, by 9 a. m. a young camelopard, by 1 o'clock a sheep and would finish up with a lark pie in which there were 120 birds. Yet, in spite of his enormous appetite, a spider has wonderful power of refraining from food, and one has been known to live for ten months when absolutely deprived of food. A beetle lived in a similar state of unrefreshment for three years.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Myra—My liberty. It's my engagement ring.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

THE GAZETTE'S MAKE'S NEST.

The Gazette is respectfully informed that no "special counsel" for the "ex" City Council nor anybody else excepting persons connected with the JOURNAL, has ever written a line that has appeared as original editorial matter in these columns since the inauguration of the present management. This will doubtless seem strange to the Gazette's host of volunteer editors, but nevertheless it is true. The JOURNAL made the assertion that $500 had been paid for special counsel (not council) for services rendered necessary by obstructive legislation inaugurated by the Reno Water Company. The Gazette says the services were rendered in friendly suits at the instance of the council itself, but it will not deny that such "friendly suits" were made necessary to guard against the obstructive legislation that has since been commenced by the Water Company. They were brought to establish the validity of the incorporation act and of the issue of bonds to assure purchasers of the safety of their investments. That the services were rendered before actual obstructive legislation was commenced, but not before it was threatened, is a silly quibble, probably suggested by the special "council" of the Water Company. The only object of the JOURNAL's publication of the official record of the Council's receipts and expenditures, was to prove the falsity of the statement that $25,000, or any other sum had been squandered by the City Council, and we opine that the publication effected that purpose to the entire satisfaction of everybody not interested in the non-exposure of the gross misstatement which elicited it.

THE LOTTERY AMENDMENT.

The lottery amendment passed both houses of the legislature. It must be submitted to the next legislature and if ratified by both branches, the matter will then have to be submitted to the people for their endorsement or rejection. The question will unquestionably out a figure at the next election, and we do not believe that enough members could be elected who will endorse the action of the one that has just adjourned, but even if there should be, we are morally certain that it will be defeated by the people as was the last one at a special election eight years ago. At all events, even if we are mistaken upon both propositions, the question cannot come to the people until the general election in 1903, unless a special election should be called while the next legislature is in session, in time for it to pass a bill establishing the lottery at that session. Ratification by the people would only authorize a legislature to pass such a bill if it chose to do so. The State at least is free from such objectionable addendum to the prize fighting law, for the next four years, as it is hardly probable that a legislature would again subject the State to an expense of a special election, but would leave the question to be decided at the following general election.

GENERAL CAHNEY will leave New York next week for Havana to pay the Cuban army. Of the $3,000,000 necessary he will take one half of it in silver coin, the other half in gold and paper money.

Silver seems to be good coin. We have yet to hear of an American refusing to take it, and it is about all the money we see in general circulation.

Is it not funny how the American people keep on taking 40-cent dollars at their full-face value without registering a single kick? Still we are told that it is depreciated money.

It is certainly the best appreciated depreciated thing we have yet seen.—Sacramento Bee.

THE Burns men in the California Legislature have made a "statement to the Republican voters of the State of California regarding the efforts to elect a United States Senator." It is signed by twenty-seven members who declare that unless a caucus is called they will all continue to vote for Burns until the end of the session. A caucus will unquestionably result in the nomination of Burns, which would be followed by his election. The anti-Burns Republicans are wary and not likely to be led into such a trap. The probability is that the deadlock will continue until the close of the session.

SILVER is to have an unimportant place in the Populist national platform this year.—Carson News.

It is news to us that Populist or any other "national" platform is to be formulated this year. Next year, however, silver will have the most prominent place on the Democratic national platform and will be endorsed by over 7,500,000 voters of these United States of North America—and don't you forget it.

The Appeal is kicking because the legislature refused to let the people of Carson vote as to whether the city should have its own water works. No use in kicking at the act of your own legislature, neighbor, but take your medicine like a brave and good little boy, remembering that Carson is not the only victim to the new principle that the majority have no rights which a legislature is bound to respect.

Thos. Craze and wife, who have been traveling in the East, are among the guests at the Riverside.

BREVITIES.

H. Dangberg, Jr., of Carson is visiting Reno.

J. F. Condon came down from Verdi last evening.

E. W. Temont and family are guests at the Riverside.

O. C. and B. Dickinson returned to Red Rock yesterday.

"Lord Francis 'Tower Talbert' of San Francisco is in Reno.

James K. Allen, a government official, is staying at the Riverside.

J. H. Pinkston and wife of Reno arrived yesterday and are staying at the Lafayette.

A. C. Cleveland came down from Carson yesterday and will leave tomorrow morning on the east bound train.

There is considerable probability of the Fitzsimmons-Jeffries fight coming off in Carson the latter part of May.

The Ellis Opera Company, with which is the famous opera singer Melba, passed through Reno last night on their way to San Francisco.

A horse committed suicide at Nevada City by deliberately crushing his head against the boards of his stall. A genuine case of equine fete de se.

The government is getting funny. A sign on the grass plot of the postoffice building at Carson bears this legend: "Say, boys, give the grass a chance."

The Evangelists Galloway and Boyd closed the great meetings they have been holding in Sacramento Thursday evening. They will be here to begin meetings Sunday morning.

Attend the Minstrels.

The sale of seats yesterday for the Wheelmen's Minstrels was quite large, but there are still a number of choice seats left and you should get in line before they are all gone.

Every wheelman and his friends should attend this entertainment as the proceeds are to be devoted to the Reno Wheelmen's Club—the pride of Reno's young men.

Every feature introduced in the performance will be carried out in true professional style, and there will be no long waits or stops between acts.

The stage setting for the grand imperial first part will be original, and the construction of our stage manager, Mr. Wm. Jackson, and promises to surpass anything he has previously produced. The several specialties will be a show in themselves.

Secure your seats early, for you know the performance takes place March 17, 1899.

Is Wedded to a Baron.

Miss Madeline Bouton, the actress, one time of Reno, Nevada, was married more than a year ago to Baron Guido Nimptsch, a wealthy nobleman. The wedding was kept a close secret and was revealed only a short time ago. Baroness Nimptsch says she is forever done with the stage.

Miss Bouton was born in Nevada and her career on the stage has been brief but successful. She went to San Francisco a year ago as Frawley's leading lady at the Columbia theater, but her lack of attention to her work was such that Frawley had to compel her to resign. She was then ill for a long time at a private hospital. The story of her marriage was then circulated, but she denied it.

Important to Working Men.

I have just received a complete and large stock of gents' furnishing goods, overalls, underwear, socks, gloves, neckties, collars, cuffs, etc., direct from the factory. Also the celebrated Bull Britches and Levi Strauss overalls in all sizes, which I am selling at prices that defy competition. I have a large assortment of fine all wool blankets, buggy robes, saddle blankets and quilts. I have always on hand a complete stock of all the leading brands of cigars, cigarettes and tobacco which I sell at wholesale and retail. A free employment office in connection with the store.

Dolph Shane Flings his Banner to the Breeze as a Landlord.

Dolph Shane regards no special description or general notice to make him known to Nevadans. The "Old Boy" took possession this morning at 6 o'clock of the Arcade Hotel as lessee. Dolph will make a genial and accommodating landlord, and the general public will soon learn that no better man in business has run a hotel in Reno than Dolph Shane.

Will Visit the City.

Miss Clara Dickinson departs this morning on a two days' journey to San Francisco for the purpose of buying a large stock of new goods. Her book store on Virginia street is always well supplied with everything the reading and writing public need. Miss Dickinson, however, is enterprising; consequently she is resolved to have on hand not only what they need, but what they may desire.

To the Wise—Namely, Clubwomen.

The beating sin of the clubwoman, somebody observes pointedly, is her almost insane inclination to speechify, and, what is more, it is true. Without disparaging the feminine lecturers who are shining lights in clubdom, there has arisen an overambitious type of clubwoman, it seems, who collects some clever sayings, which may or may not be her own special brand, on a question of the hour, and, presto, she emerges from her little brown study a full fledged professional speaker. As the Hoosier poet would put it, she has "a natchural turn for talkin' it to kill" and does not appreciate that sometimes "the best and hardest thing to learn is the trick o' keepin' still." No broader or better hint can be given incapable platform paraders than that given by the Quaker, "My son," admonished the paternal one, "if thee has nothing to say it is wise to say nothing."—Bertha Damaris Knoke in Woman's Home Companion.

A Prima Donna's Ordeal.

Lilli Lehmann, the song bird, follows the strictest kind of regimen. For the last eight years she has been a vegetarian. She never takes stimulants of any kind. Water is her only beverage. Her bed hour when she doesn't sing is 8 o'clock. She gives a stated number of hours on her idle days to gymnastic exercises. In summer she indulges in a great deal of swimming. The result is that at 50, with her hair snow white, her figure is shapely and erect and her voice is strong and fresh. Girls who believe that they have a voice will probably hesitate a bit before they face the ordeal that has to be faced by most of the prima donnas of the old schools.

An Innovation in India.

Mrs. Solomon Gosssoon, the managing partner of a well known Jewish firm in Bombay and president of several companies in which the firm takes an interest, has been proposed for a place in the governor general's council—an astonishing innovation for India. The proposal comes from a leading Indian paper. It is due to her remarkable business ability and the fact that she has made great efforts to draw together the women of Bombay.—Woman's Journal.

Miss Frances Molina, who has taken much interest in educational matters in the past, sailed for Havana to open "the American school" there. The school will be American in its methods, in its curriculum, in its textbooks and even in the use of the language spoken. Miss Molina belongs to a very old Cuban family, but she has received a fine English education.

Under an old law of Maryland, seldom if ever used, a man named Tucker, who killed another named Johnson, "in a fight," is to pay the widow $3,000 and her children $3,000. A jury so decided at Baltimore after a week's trial.

"Not a song bird hat in stock" is posted on frequent bulletins through the millinery department of Marshall Field's great Chicago store. This is a public acknowledgment of the victory of the Audubon crusade.

Miss Elizabeth Geddes, the nurse who received the Royal Red Cross for her services at Omdurman, is a member of the National Society For Aid to Sick and Wounded in War.

The empress dowager of China received a deputation of foreign women recently—a marked departure from ancient custom.

Heat and Fuel Savers.

How long are you going to "get along" with that old cookstove that burns more fuel than a furnace and heats the outdoors more than does the oven?

A very little money will buy one of our cookstoves—you'll save the price in fuel in one season. It will keep the heat where it ought to be, and cook your food as it ought to be cooked. Come in and examine them.
